DIANA WATSON

University of Calgary
Bachelor of Arts - Sociology and
Bachelor of Education

Diana is currently entering the fifth and final year of her concurrent Bachelor of Arts and Bachelor of Education degrees at the University of Calgary. She has successfully made the Dean's Honour Roll for the past three academic years. Upon graduation, Diana will hold a Bachelor of Arts degree, majoring in Sociology and a Bachelor of Education degree, majoring in Early Childhood Education. With these degrees, she plans to have a meaningful and positive impact on our future generations by becoming a kindergarten teacher. Every week, Diana is committed to giving back to her community by volunteering with the Calgary Public Library as a Play Champion. In her free time, Diana pursues her passion for travel, hiking, and the great outdoors.

EMMA LOUIE

University of British Columbia
Bachelor, Dietetics

Emma is completing her final practicum year in the Dietetics program at the University of British Columbia. Emma's interests in cooking and food literacy have led her to become a program leader for afterschool cooking programs and volunteer with various dietitians in private practice, sports nutrition, clinical nutrition, and community settings. She looks forward to challenging herself during her practicum year and pursue a career as a Registered Dietitian. In her spare time, Emma is passionate about playing volleyball, hiking, and yoga.

JULIA LOUIE

University of British Columbia
Bachelor of Arts, Cognitive Systems

Julia is a second year undergraduate student at the University of British Columbia. She is currently in the Bachelor of Science program pursuing a major in Cognitive Systems. In the future, she hopes to further her education in nursing which incorporate her interests in both anatomy and medicine. In her spare time Julia is often found hiking, cooking and spending time with friends and family.

SARAH O'NEIL

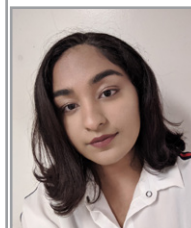

Saint Francis Xavier University
Bachelors, Human Kinetics

Sarah is entering her first year of a Bachelor of Arts in Human Kinetics program with a future goal of becoming a Physio-therapist. She graduated High School with distinction while playing Basketball and Rugby for her school along with actively volunteering in her community. Sarah has represented her Province (Nova Scotia) on provincial U15 and U16 Basketball teams. She also volunteers with Jr. NBA and participates yearly in CIBC's Run For the Cure (Breast cancer awareness). After graduation, Sarah plans on specializing in Sport Injuries and intends to give back to her community as a volunteer working with adults and youth in her community. She wants to be a positive influence by improving peoples health through sports, nutrition and by improving the environment in which we all live. Sarah is the fourth generation of her family to attend Saint Francis Xavier University.

AIMEN KASHIF

University of Toronto – Scarborough
Bachelor, Health Studies and Anthropology

I am a third year student, double majoring in health studies and socio-cultural anthropology at the prestigious university of Toronto (Scarborough campus). My career goal is to obtain my master's degree in public health and have a keen focus on epidemiology. I have always had the intention to help others and I believe that the path of public health allows people to connect with the community and become part of the solution, not the problem. Alongside my studies, I enjoy playing sports such as volleyball or badminton, reading and watching movies. In addition to my free time, I always seek volunteer opportunities within my school and outside, which allow me to gain perspectives of how the world functions and the main message that we all need to work together for positivity to exist. I hope my journey can inspire others to work hard and find their passions in life.

NICK TEBINKA

University of Manitoba
Bachelor, Civil Engineering

I am a 4th year Civil Engineering Student at the University of Manitoba. During the past 4 summers I have worked as a surveyor for WSP. In my free time I enjoy playing guitar and golfing.

MARIN FELT

University of British Columbia
Bachelor, Dietetics

Marin is a third-year student at the University of British Columbia aiming to apply to the Dietetics program this coming spring. She is hoping to pursue a career as a Registered Pediatric Dietitian. Marin's diabetic diagnosis in 2013 sparked her interest in this profession instantly. She has successfully maintained a very high GPA throughout high school and made the Dean's List in both years of her post-secondary schooling thus far. She has volunteered with her own Pediatric Dietitian in the hospital setting and sees her Dietitian as a major influencer in her career choice. In her spare time Marin enjoys rock climbing, basketball, volunteering and getting involved in the community.
